April 2, 2017 — Fifth Sunday of Lent

Today, on this Fifth Sunday of Lent, we take some time to reflect on life's biggest questions about who we are and what happens after we die. The prophet Ezekiel relays the words of God, twice referring to the Israelites as "my people." The Israelites are indeed God's own chosen ones, whom God promises to fetch out of the grave and revive, settling them on new land. We know that Jesus extends that promise to all of us through Baptism, as Saint Paul's Letter to the Romans emphasizes: "If the Spirit of the One who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, the One who raised Christ from the dead will give life to your mortal bodies also." The raising of Lazarus in John's Gospel proves God's mastery over death. We are God's own beloved children. Nothing, not even death, is more powerful than God's care for us.

DEAD AGAIN "Lazarus, come out!" Jesus shouts his command, and a beloved friend rises from the dead. Those of us who have lost loved ones might wish Jesus would call our dearly departed back from the grave too, keeping them on earth a little while longer for companionship. Consider, however, that Martha and Mary had to grieve their brother not once, but twice. The miracle of Lazarus' resuscitation did not prevent Lazarus from dying again. Difficult as death is to bear, Jesus has a merciful plan for us: not endless resuscitations, but genuine resurrection. Unlike Lazarus, we will die just once, and that is a small price to pay for the majestic reward Jesus has planned for each of us. Jesus is "the resurrection and the life." If we believe in him, we can live forever in glorious, resurrected bodies free from pain and disability.

The prophet Ezekiel describes the promise of God, to put God's own spirit within us so we may live. "I have promised, and I will do it, says the LORD." Jesus Christ fulfills that promise. If we belong to Jesus, then, we possess all the riches of God's kingdom. Today, as we stand at the Profession of Faith and recite the Creed with our sisters and brothers in Christ, we can marvel at what the Lord has done for us.

YES, LORD For the third week in a row, our Sunday Gospel reading narrates a bold profession of faith in Jesus Christ. First we had the Samaritan woman at the well, then the man cured of his blindness, and now Martha, the grieving sister of Lazarus. The eclectic mix of believers reminds us that God desires all people to have faith. After professing our own faith during the liturgy today, we are sent to make disciples of all. Strengthened by word and sacrament, let us live bold Christian lives. May our loving words and deeds draw others to life in Christ.

Today's Readings: Ez 37:12-14; Ps 130:1-8; Rom 8:8-11; John 11:1-45 [3-7, 17, 20-27, 33b-45]

The Pope’s Prayer Intention for April, 2017

That young people may respond generously to their vocations and seriously consider offering themselves to God in the priesthood or consecrated life.

Out of love, Jesus gave Lazarus life. You too can offer God’s love through ministry as a priest, sister or brother.

If you think God is calling you, contact Fr. Andrew Merrick at 225.336.8778, amerrick@diobr.org.
